Our success is second to none. EVERY SINGLE person that has completed our course has qualified as a Driving Instructor.

Now it's your turn.

Legal Process

The process to become a Driving Instructor is easy and no previous experience is necessary, but you must tick a few boxes first:

You must have held a driving licence for at least 2.5 years when you start training. You must not have more than 5 points on your driving licence - if you have 6, please discuss this with us. ✓

You have to be able to read a new style licence plate from 26.5m/90ft; glasses or contacts are allowed. You have to be a "Fit and Proper Person" which means completing a Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency (DVSA) Criminal Records Bureau (CRB/DBS) check. This process will take approx. 6-8 weeks. ✓

You can start studying while the CRB process is being completed - if you have any concerns, please discuss this with us. ✓

Next, you have to pass three DVSA tests. ✓

That's where we come in...

TRAINING & TESTS.

DRIVE. You know you want to...

Tests.

The Qualification process is split into 3 DVSA tests.

Part 1 is a computer based Theory and Hazard Perception Test.

Part 2 is a Test of Driving Ability.

Part 3 is a Test of Instructional Ability.

You will sit the three DVSA tests at your local ADI test centre.

You must take the tests in order passing each one before the next can be taken. The qualification process MUST be completed within two years of passing the first test.

This DVSA process usually takes between 4-12 months depending on DVSA test waiting times.

Part 1.

This is a computer based Multiple Choice Theory and Hazard Perception Test. The test lasts for 90 minutes. The test fee is £81 payable directly to the DVSA. You may sit this test as many times as necessary.

Multiple Choice. This part comprises of 100 multiple choice questions. You need to get at least 85 correct. You also need a minimum mark of 20 across four areas covering:

- Road Procedure
- Traffic Signs and Signals; Car Control; Pedestrians; Mechanical Knowledge
- Driving Test; Disabilities; Law
- Publications; Instructional Techniques.

Hazard Perception. This part you will be shown 14 video clips, each containing at least one 'developing hazard'. You have to identify the hazards, scoring 57 out of a maximum of 75 marks to pass.

Part 2 Test of Driving Ability.

This Driving Test lasts for about one hour. You must demonstrate a thorough understanding of good, safe driving. The test fee is £111 payable directly to the DVSA. You may sit this test up to three times if necessary.

Vehicle Safety Questions: At the start of the test you will be asked basic vehicle safety and maintenance questions. You will also be asked to complete 'safety tasks' while driving. These are sometimes called 'Show me/Tell me' questions.

Eyesight Test: You must be able to read a registration plate at a distance of 26.5 metres for vehicles with a new-style number plate.

Driving: You have to demonstrate expert control, correct road procedure, anticipation and consideration of others, good judgement of speed and distance, independent driving - following road signs or use of a sat-nav and driving in an eco-friendly way. The test includes some basic set manoeuvres. You are permitted up to a maximum of six driving faults.

Part 3 Test of Instructional Ability.

The Instructional Ability test is test of your ability to instruct. The examiner will observe you training a pupil. This can be a learner driver or full licence holder.

The test lasts for about one hour. This test fee is £111 payable directly to the DVSA. You may take this test up to three times if necessary.

Trainee Licence: The Trainee Licence allows you to 'earn as you learn' before taking the Part 3 test. You can work 'full-time' as your main job, or you can work in your spare time around your current job or commitments to start building your diary.

This is know as the 'Pink Badge' or 'PDI Licence'.

We will discuss all the options with you at this stage to ensure you do what is right for you.

Once you pass Part 3, you become a fully qualified DVSA Approved Driving Instructor (ADI) and are entered on the Register of DVSA Approved Driving Instructors. This registration costs £300.

You will then receive your DVSA ADI Badge (know as the 'Green Badge').

Congratulations, you are now a Driving Instructor!

What if I fail? In the unlikely event that you fail a test, we can provide further training with one of our team and in the even more unlikely event that you should fail three attempts, we will provide the full course at no extra cost to prepare for the process again.
